$3,249 COUNTY SHARE IN FEES

Liquor Licenses For Last Half Of '37 Give City $898 From State Fees

SACRAMENTO—Cities and unincorporated areas in El Dorado County will receive a total of $3,249.73 as their share of fees derived from liquor licenses during the last half of 1937, it was announced today by R. E. Collins, chairman, of the State Board of Equalization.

From the standpoint of the state as a whole, the allocation will amount to $991,962.33. This represents 50 per cent of the total fees earned during the last six-month period of 1937. The state's share of this income, after administration costs are deducted, goes into the general fund.

On the basis of actual licenses issued, the unincorporated area of El Dorado County will receive a total of $2,351.36 and Placerville will receive $898.37.

The change in the law to provide for allocation twice a year instead of annually was made at the request of members of the Board of Equalization so that these funds would not remain idle for such a long period. Current allocation represents the second made on the semi-annual basis. Inasmuch as a greater portion of liquor license fees are received during the renewal period of the first half of the year, the second half allocation is considerably lower than that for the first six-month period. The cities' and counties' share for the first half of 1937 amounted to $1,447,259.75.

In announcing the distribution of funds the Board members again pointed out that this money is collected entirely by the state and represents income derived exclusively from liquor licenses. It was suggested that a proper expenditure of this money would be to finance local enforcement of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.

Crockett Strike Area Quiet

Labor Factions Opposed As Result Of Closing Of C. & H. Sugar Refinery

CROCKETT (UP)—Committee of Industrial Organization strikers evacuated Crockett today with the announcement they were "going fishing" to avoid possibility of violence in connection with a scheduled parade of 15,000 A. F. of L. workers in protest against the C. I. O.'s closing of the California-Hawaiian sugar refinery.

The A. F. of L. parade had failed to materialize at 8:30 a. m.—30 minutes past the announced starting time.

Excepting a few scattered pickets, there apparently were no C. I. O. men in Crockett.

Lolling in the spring sunshine in front of the closed plant, these pickets chatted with 25 A. F. of L. pickets as the town awaited the parade.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower Thursday

Miss Miriam Murdock, whose marriage to Andrew Anderson will take place during the coming summer, was guest of honor at a shower Thursday evening at the home of Miss Adele Beach.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Beach, and sister, Mrs. Thelma Smith. Honors at cards were won by Mrs. Jessie Fox and the consolation went to Miss Herberta Thompson. Refreshments were served during the late evening.

Covers were laid for the Mesdames Edith Rasmussen, Jessie Fox, Joe Bernich, Erma Lewis, Merrie Beach, Edna Clark, Elberta Arnold, Lois Croft, Helen Peterson, Lella McKenzie, Ruth Willis, and the Misses Louise Miller, Mabel McKenzie, Ethel Christian, Mabel Cook and Herberta Thompson.

Mrs. Martha L. Power Laid At Rest

The funeral service for Mrs. Martha Luella Power, who passed away Thursday morning of pneumonia, were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Dillinger mortuary chapel. Rev. Harold Morehouse was in charge. Interment was at the Camino cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, John Power, who passed away in 1926.

NEW PARTY IN MEXICO—Organization of the new Party of the Revolution in Mexico, to take over the organization of President Lazaro Cardenas, right, has been announced, looking toward a Socialist state. This move, observers expect, will be opposed by General Saturnino Cedillo, left, Fascist-inclined military leader, who heads a private army of 15,000 men.

SIX-TOED CATS OF HANGTOWN SUBJECTS OF STANFORD ANATOMY STUDY

Geneticist Waiting Anxiously To See Off-Spring From Mating Of Extra-Toed Felines Obtained From Placerville Boy During Vacation Quest For Study

By TEMPLETON PECK '29

In The Stanford University Illustrated Review

Hangtown never had a Six-Toed Pete to hang from a scrub pine tree. But nowadays Placerville, Hangtown's less robust daughter, supports a rather populous colony of six-toed cats. And through six-toed cats we come to the fascinating field of genetics, in which Professor Charles H. Danforth of the Stanford Department of Anatomy is eminent.

But first, let's ask a question: If Six-Toed Pete were today a citizen of Placerville, and if he were married to a woman named Six-Toed Molly, would they have their full quota of six-toed children going to the Placerville schools? Or would they have lost an undue number of them at or before birth? In the present state of the evidence, this question cannot be answered. For light on the question, we must turn to the six-toed cats.

Two summers ago, while vacationing in Placerville, Professor Danforth made friends with a lad who happened to be enormously proud of a pet six-toed cat. There were lots of six-toed cats in Placerville, the boy said. Sure, he could get one for Professor Danforth, and did.

Professor Danforth brought the cat with twenty-four toes to the campus. It is a female, and last April it gave birth to a litter of six kittens. Five of the kittens had six toes on each paw; the sixth had the normal number of toes, i. e., five in front and four behind. The mother is gray and white. The father of this remarkable family is white with normal toes, but unmatching eyes; one is blue and the other brown. Like most blue-eyed cats, the old man is deaf.

Mother, father, and all of the little six-toed cats play happily in the animal cages to the rear of the Anatomy building on the campus. Their extra-toed paws look knoblier than the slim, pretty paws of normal cats, but poly-

Judge Has No Sympathy For Distressed Swain

NEW YORK (UP)—Julius Fernandez, 21, caught with eight sweaters and four knitted suits that were stolen, pleaded guilty and asked a favor in return of Judge William O'Dwyer. "Next Saturday," Fernandez asked, "I want out. I'm getting married." "You better stay in," the judge replied. "Bail, $5,000."

W. G. COLLYER SPEAKER AT SUMMIT CENTER; 85 ATTEND

U. S.-Canada Border Towns Swap Firemen

ST. STEPHEN, N. B. (UP)—The border town of St. Stephen, which lies a stone's throw from the neighboring United States towns of Calais and Milltown, Me., can justifiably be called the home of international friendship.

Out of 180 fires handled during the past year, the St. Stephen fire department fought 60 outbreaks in the neighboring American towns.

Besides sharing fire departments, St. Stephens and Calais churches are attended by both Canadian and American congregations.

The War of 1812 between the United States and Canada, went unrecognized by these border towns.

Nicaragua Engaged In Air Force Building

NEW ORLEANS, (UP)—Nicaragua's aim is to become the major Latin American air power and will spend approximately $1,000,000 in that direction during 1938, it was revealed here by Lieutenant Modesto Nicolas Valle of the Nicaragua air corps. He is one of eight fliers who will spend the next several months traveling through the principal air countries studying flying.

Fifteen planes, valued at $35,000 each, are under construction for the Latin American country, Valle said.

Miss Margaret A. Kelly was among the visitors in the county seat on Friday from the Kelsey section.

REORGANIZATION ACT BATTLE CONTINUES

Opponents Talk Of Effort To Recommit Measure As Supporters Hail Victory

By JOHN R. BEAL

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Administration forces and opponents of President Roosevelt's government reorganization bill squared off in the House today for a fight over changes in the comptroller general's office.

The second day of reading the bill for amendments began with talk by members of the opposition of attempt to recommit it to committee. Such a move if successful, would kill it.

One of the bill's vital titles has been approved—that of conferring on the President, general power to reorganize the executive department, with certain important exceptions. Administration leaders also have scored a preliminary victory by defeating, 191 to 169, a motion by Rep. John O'Connor, D. N. Y., to strike out the bill's enacting clause.

The opposition, however, refused to regard these as conclusive tests of strength.

Naval Building Start Mapped

Work On 2 New Battleships Will Be Under Way Before January 1, Officers Say

WASHINGTON (UP)—Assistant Secretary of Navy, Charles Edison and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, said today construction of two new battleships provided in the new Navy supply bill will be started before January 1.

The Navy officials made the announcement after conferring with President Roosevelt. Start of the new dreadnaughts will give the United States four battleships under construction as two already are being built.

Edison and Leahy said the new dreadnaughts probably would be slightly in excess of 35,000 tons each in as much as London Naval Treaty restrictions have been removed by invocation of the Escalator clause by the United States and Great Britain.

The dreadnaughts probably will be only a few hundred tons over the 35,000 figure, Leahy said. He said two new cruisers will also be on the ship ways by the first of the year.

ARABIAN NIGHTS FANTASY WELL RECEIVED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

The junior class at the high school attempted "something different" for their play this year and entertained a large and appreciative audience at the high school auditorium Thursday night with an interpretation of the two-act play, "Aladdin" based on the Arabian nights story of "Aladdin and The Wonderful Lamp."

The undertaking was in nine scenes and was under the direction of Thomas Flynn, of the faculty. The high school orchestra, directed by Charles W. Ball, assisted in the presentation.

The title part was capably portrayed by Janis Ball, who was ably supported by a large cast including Dorothy Matson, Pearl Malm, Helen Moran, Betty Clark, Paul Tickman, Bill Sayers, Inez Bongetta, Helen Brander, Lucille Kurwitz, Doris Wudell, Isabel Long, Rose Koerner, Calvin Wright, Kenneth Sloan, Olive Olson, Alice Zueger, Gladys Beam, Ruth Clifton, Beverly Carver and Charlotte Tingle.

The players all presented their parts creditably and the novel manner of shifting scenes was an intriguing feature of the evening's entertainment.

8-Foot Wooden Bath Tub Of 1796 For Museum

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UP)—An ancestor of American modern plumbing, an 8-foot long wooden bath tub hand-hewn from a single pine log, has been given to the Fleming Museum of the University of Vermont.

Weighing several hundred pounds, the tub was made by Elias Lyman III, of Hartford, Vt., in 1796.

Mrs. W. L. Nightengale was in town from Latrobe on Friday.

Tom Devine was up from the bay district Friday, renewing acquaintances with D. W. LeBourveau, who was a classmate at Santa Clara longer ago than either of them like to admit.

88 MISSING IN TEXAS BLIZZARD AS MIDWEST STORM CLAIMS 22

Freezing Temperature Forecast For North Central States During Next 36 Hours; Snow And Sleet In Plains States Turns To Rain On Atlantic Coast

PAMPA, Tex. (UP)—Eighty-five persons, including seven children in a school bus, were unaccounted for today on snow blocked highways around Pampa. The temperature was 20 degrees.

The missing 85 included 23 members of searching parties who left here at 6 o'clock last night to aid stranded motorists.

Pampa was completely isolated and some sections of the Texas panhandle were experiencing the worst blizzard since 1918.

DIRECT RELIEF END SOUGHT

WPA Administrator Calls For Expansion Of Program To Provide Jobs For Able-bodied

WASHINGTON (UP)—Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, today called for expansion of the Federal Works Program and Social Security aids to eliminate all direct relief in the United States and provide a job for every able-bodied worker.

Hopkins submitted his views to the Senate unemployment and relief committee as President Roosevelt's associates said the chief executive was preparing to ask emergency action on a new recovery and relief program calling for an outlay up to $4,000,000,000.

Hopkins called for an absolute end of direct relief throughout the country. In its place he suggested: Expansion of the Works Program; enlargement of pensions and insurance systems under the Social Security Act.

Hopkins, preparing the way for President Roosevelt's intended plan for wide scale pump priming and works expenditures, called for new government spending for such projects as: New homes, schools, public roads, flood control and soil conservation projects.

PROTESTS INVEIGLED ON PLANS FOR PEAR ADVERTISING

J. A. Irving, chairman of the California Fresh Bartlett Advisory Board, today announced the Board will receive petitions for termination of the advertising program until April 15, 1938, from Bartlett pear growers.

Mr. Irving explained the Board had extended the time from April 1 to April 15 in order to give growers an opportunity to express themselves before the Board enters into contracts for the coming season. It requires considerable time to arrange for advertising space, dealer service material, and secure men for conducting dealer service work.

Therefore, the Board is quite anxious to get these details out of the way in order that the advertising campaign will be fully organized well in advance of the season.

Farm Center At Rescue Meeting Tonight

The regular meeting of the Rescue Farm Center will be held this (Friday) evening at the Tennessee school house. Farm Advisor Lilley will attend the meeting and will supplement the program as arranged by the center by showing several reels of motion pictures and discussing agricultural subjects of interest to the district.

Senator McAdoo Will Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senator William G. McAdoo, D., California, today announced he would run for re-election in the California Democratic primary in August.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy tonight, Sat., unsettled north; high, 74; low, 37.

By UNITED PRESS

Wintry blasts that slanted through the heart of the nation and tornadic winds, heavy rains and raging floods in other areas east of the Rocky Mountains, left at least 22 dead and 11 missing today as a mid-spring storm wheeled diagonally northeastward.

The storm, in its varied manifestations, centered east of Cairo, Ill., and moved rapidly toward the Atlantic coast where snow and sleet became rain.

A great belt extended from Northwestern Texas to Southern lower Michigan.

Freezing temperatures were forecast for the next 36 hours in the North Central states. A slight rise was expected tomorrow in the plains states and in most other regions, Sunday.

A tornado that roared through a section near Alliceville, Illinois, also killed 11 and injured 50 persons. It damaged homes in eight communities. Five died in Indiana from falls and in traffic accidents. A man was killed in Iowa when his car crashed a truck on glassy pavement. A Chicagoan dropped dead while shoveling snow. Two men were killed in Missouri in highway accidents.

At Jasper, Ga., two children were dead and 11 persons were missing and feared drowned when a store they occupied was swept away by a raging Talona Creek.

Britain Seeks To Aid Paris

Prevailing Cabinet Crisis Stirs London To Dicker With Probable New French Leader

By JOE ALEX MORRIS

United Press Staff Correspondent
Great Britain began maneuvers to stabilize European peace today in face of a riotous French cabinet crisis and steady gains by insurgent armies in Spain's civil war.

With the cabinet of French Premier Leon Blum crumbling despite workers mass demonstrations of support, British "personalities" were reported to have opened negotiations with Edouard Deladier, expected to be the new government leader, for extension of needed credits. Whether such negotiations would succeed was highly doubtful.

In return for credit on raw materials, it was said that Deladier was asked to form a strong cabinet avoiding any communist participation, collaborating with Britain, keeping hands off Spain and permitting the Franco-Soviet alliance to lapse.

Such a move might be expected to smooth Britain's negotiations for a peaceful working arrangement with Italy, strengthen indications that France also would seek a reconciliation with the Fascist state and further British efforts to bind the new Spanish dictatorship to London by financial ties.

Ancient Monster Bone Lacks Identification

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col. (U-P)—A fragment of some large bone, believed to have been from the skeleton of some prehistoric animal, was removed from the city gravel pit and scientists are seeking other parts of the skeleton.

The fragment was found lodged next to a large rock. A study of the strata in the bank where it was found indicated by the straight lines that the place was once a shore line of some large body of water and the monster, part of whose skeleton was found, had been buried when the land was dry.

Scientists have been unable to determine whether the bone was from a mastodon or a dinosaur.

SCHOOL FOR NOVELISTS HAS FOUR ENROLLED AT IOWA UNIVERSITY

IOWA CITY, Ia. (U-P)—Contracts for publication of first novels were prerequisites for enrollment in the University of Iowa's new school for novelists, a unique American educational venture.

Four aspirants for advanced degrees, all of whom had their first novels accepted, have enrolled in the course.

They are: Robert Whitehead, Tulsa, Okla.; Ross McLaury Taylor, Snyder, Okla.; John Abbe, Guilford, Conn.; and Herbert Krause, Fergus Falls, Minn.

Abbe, youngest of the group, is working for an M. A. degree. The others seek Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

Three are enrolled in the English departments, while Whitehead, already an author of several plays, is in the dramatic department.

SNAKE "ANGLING" NEW SPORT FOR TEXANS HUNTING RATTLES

MATADOR, Tex. (U-P)—Cowboys and town dwellers alike are getting new thrills this spring from a dangerous new sport of the rocky ranch country—snake angling.

The idea circulated northward from the Rio Grande ranchers, past Breckinridge, in Central West Texas, where a "snake hunt" is an annual outing for many citizens. The rugged brush country of the "Cap Rock" plateau of the high plains furnishes a sport usually not found in snake hunting.

Rattlesnakes are the prey and the "rods" are 4-foot lengths of pipe encircling a stout wire that is fashioned into a loop at the bottom end. The "angler" carries the rod, and when he meets a rattler, the wire loop is slipped over the snake's head. A quick jerk on the other end of the wire, and the rattler is killed—either decapitated or with a broken back.

ITALIANS BUILD 2 NEW TOWNS IN PONTINE MARSH AREA

By FRANCESCO REA

ROME, (U-P)—Two new towns, one industrial, the other rural, will be born in Italy within the next few months.

One is actually under construction, the other will be founded on April 22, when Premier Benito Mussolini will lay its cornerstone.

The former's name is Carbonia (from the Italian "carbone") or "Coal City." The latter is named Pomezia and is derived from Suessa Pometia of the Volscians and Romans, also built in the Pontine area.

Carbonia is rising on the southwesternmost tip of the island of Sardinia over a site which was a scene of desolation, covered with thick bushes and countless rosemary and hawthorn plants, a haven for game hunters.

Pomezia will be the fifth town to rise in the former Pontine wastelands. On April 25, 1936, after plowing a furrow to mark the symbolical foundation of Aprilia, the fourth town to be built in the former marshes, Mussolini, in a speech, announced that Pomezia would be founded on April 22, 1938, and inaugurated on October 29, 1939.

EMPLOYERS ADVISED TO REGISTER FOR JOB INSURANCE

Employers in El Dorado County were warned today by Alston W. Sutton, manager of the Department of Employment office, Room 207, Summer Bldg., Placerville, to register with the department, if they had not already done so.

Sutton said that the records of the department in Sacramento indicate there are still many employers in this district who have not filed with the department.

"Employers who hire from four to seven persons in subject employment must pay contributions to the Unemployment Trust Fund beginning January 1, 1937," said Sutton.

"Contributions for the first quarter were due and payable on April 1, and became delinquent after April 30. Consequently, the employer who is not registered faces an interest penalty in his contribution was not made by that date."

"Registration blanks are obtainable at the local office of the Department of Employment, or may be had by writing to the Sacramento office. Actually, every employer in the state has been sent a blank, but for those who have misplaced the form, another will be supplied."

Records in Sacramento indicate there are still some 25,000 employers in California who have failed to register with the department. It is pointed out because of this failure, employers are jeopardizing both their own financial status, and the rights of their employees to future benefits.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mr. Rogers Hornsby was very involved in a plate of spaghetti when I arrived, and the sight of this fine Italian dish prompted me to ask him his opinion on the holdout battle between Joseph Di Maggio and the New York Yankees.

I got a quick and decisive reply. One always does with Hornsby. The man may have his faults, but no one ever accused him of beating around the conversational bush.

"Di Maggio should come in on that $25,000 contract like it was a low liner," Rogers answered. "I mean come in on it fast and sign before he finds himself spending the summer in San Francisco. Now, I'm a firm believer in a ball player getting as much pay as possible, but there's always a limit. I am afraid Joe has got it in his head that he is another Babe Ruth. Well, he isn't, and he never will be. There won't be another piece of baseball goods like the Babe during our lifetime. Or Di Maggio's either. He's not even a Gehrig for my dough. Or a Charley Gehringer."

"This is Di Maggio's third season in the majors and he sneers at twenty-five grand. That's serious sneering. I don't want to boast, but I was a pretty fair country ball player in my day and do you know what I got—and was glad to get—for my second season in the major? The fine sum of $2,000. And I hit .313. To my way of thinking, no player is a major league star until he has proved it over a stretch of four or five years. Di Maggio ought to stop and consider how lucky he was that he signed with the Yankees. What do you think he would be making if he had signed with the Browns or the Athletics or Washington? A man who kicks about the Yankees pay is plum ungrateful. Di Maggio ought to sit down and ponder on what Joe Medwick is getting this year. That Medwick is a pretty handy man to have on a ball team, too."

I asked Hornsby if he had read any of the articles concerning the relative merits of the American and National Leagues.

"Yeah, I've read most of them. You know, I read other things besides the daily racing form, all reports to the contrary. And if you want my opinion, it is that the two leagues are about equal in strength. The American has more long distance hitters, and a livelier ball. On the other hand, the National has many more outstanding pitchers. The reason that the American has been more successful in world series is that the American has a habit of developing one great club that not only crushes the other teams in the league, but the national winner as well. The boys in the National always put on a hotter race and the winner is under tremendous pressure right down to the wire. I think that hurts the National League's series chances, physically and mentally."

Hornsby, you might like to know, thinks the Yankees will dominate the American this year. Di Maggio or no Di Maggio, and that the Cubs will come home in the National.

TORSO MURDER SEARCH PRESSED BY TWO DETECTIVES

CLEVELAND (UP)—More than 1,500 persons now have been questioned by Cleveland detectives in their search for the "mad butcher of Kingsbury Run," who has slain and mutilated 10 persons in two and a half years.

Detectives Peter Merylo and Martin Zalewski have questioned 300 suspicious characters in their search for the torso killer, and have obtained conviction of a third of them for crimes ranging from safe-blowing to forgery.

They spent weeks in a slaughter house looking for a mad killer. They spent weeks in hospitals looking for a mad physician. Neither was found.

Since September, 1936, they have wandered over a dozen states and talked with all types of criminals. They are confident that some day they will find the person who is responsible for the decapitation murders that started in September, 1935.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Gems of ingenuity culled from Skidmore College examination papers:

"Marco Polo was a great traveler. He discovered the North Pole and named it for himself."

"The great constituent of the scientific spirit is curiosity. If it hadn't been for that, Solar would never have discovered his system."

"A ballad is a song that passed from mouth to mouth until the taste changed."

"Without bacteria or decay, things would be piled up all over the place and if it were possible for me to be here I might be sitting on top of a dead dinosaur right now."

"Today we still find some of the early fossils which have died and appear to be decayed wood."

"Reproduce is what the bacteria do best."

3 Villages Doomed By Nebraska Dam

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Three villages will be inundated when construction of Kingsley dam, second largest earth-fill dam in the world, is completed on the North Platte river.

The villages of Lemoyne, Belmar and Martin, will be under 60 feet of water when the 2,000,000 acre-foot reservoir is filled and 30 miles of Union Pacific railroad track must be relocated.

Concrete structures will be completed in May. Work on the dam proper, has consisted of driving sheet piling in a straight line from one side of the valley to the other.

The dam and reservoir will be the principal unit of the Central Nebraska public power and irrigation district of Hastings, better known as the Tri-county project.

GREENVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Seven towns in southeastern Missouri, all of them more than 150 years old, will be abandoned soon to make way for construction of a huge lake in the St. Francis river basin.

The lake, which will cover approximately 6,000 acres, will be formed by Wappapello dam.

Largest of the seven towns which will be covered by the lake is Greenville, county seat of Wayne County, which has about 800 inhabitants.

Approximately 2,000 persons, including farmers and persons living in the condemned towns, will have to move before the lake is formed. In addition to Greenville, the towns that will have to be abandoned are Silva, Lodi, Ojibway, Shook, Taskee and Chaconia.

6-Toed Cats Studied

dactly does not seem to impair their agility. In fact, an extra toe means an extra claw—helpful in climbing.

Soon the young six-toed cats will be ready for parenthood, a matter about which cats have been serenely diligent since the Pyramids. When mated to normal cats, they will produce, over a period long enough to give the mathematics of genetics a chance to operate, half six-toed, half five-toed kittens.

But what will be the result of a union between a six-toed mother and a six-toed father? Professor Danforth is waiting to find out. It may be a lethal combination.

At the University of Chicago, observation of guinea pigs with extra toes has shown that mating between an extra-toed male and an extra-toed female produces a percentage of many-toed young which are invariably still born. What causes this lethal result? It is possible that where there is something adherent in the genetic condition, the combination of genes which produces polydactyly may at the same time affect something more vital. That is to say, the formation in embryo of six-toed guinea pigs could hardly cause stillbirth; but six-toedness plus an excess or failure of cell growth in other, more vital parts undoubtedly could, and does, cause it.

So the question whether six-toed mother and father cats can or cannot have live young leads to an interesting exploration of the operations of the genes by which hereditary characters are passed on. An ultimate question, of course, is whether the offspring of human mothers and fathers having six toes on each foot would live at birth.

Hence the question about Six-Toed Pete and Six-Toed Molly, for polydactyly in human beings is not extremely rare.

An insight into this mystery of the genes is afforded by the analogy of albino mice with black eyes. Professor Danforth has done a great deal of work with the genetics of mice over a period of years. He has discovered that the gene which makes for black eyes may come from either parent (albino mice normally have pink eyes). If the gene making for black eyes comes from

3 TO BE HONORED BY WISCONSIN "U" AT COMMENCEMENT

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—The University of Wisconsin will honor three of its most prominent former students for distinguished service in government and science during its 85th commencement exercises here, June 20.

Honorary degrees will be conferred upon Senator Robert M. La Follette, Miss Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the federal children's bureau at Washington, and Prof. Harry Steenbock, eminent scientist who discovered the vitamin D irradiation process.

All three were born and reared in Wisconsin and attended the university. All have degrees from the University except La Follette, who was forced to withdraw from school before graduation because of a serious illness.

Bachelor Learns About Allowable Deductions

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—Add income tax oddities:

A bachelor, who employed a housekeeper, thought he could deduct the $4 a week he paid her plus the price of a new bed and bed spring he bought her "because she threatened to quit if I didn't."

The government ruled the housekeeper was earning her livelihood and couldn't be classed as a dependent under the law.

only one parent, the result is a mouse normal except for black eyes.

But if both parents have black eyes, then the genes of both will transfer not only the character of black-eyedness, but in addition quite another character, the failure of the bone marrow to produce sufficient red corpuscles. Result: anemia and death. The frequency of appearance of this fatal character is one in four. That is, black-eyed parent mice producing a litter of eight, all will be black-eyed but two will be anemic and die.

Such is the genetic linkage between black-eyedness and fatal anemia in albino mice. Why the two should occur in combination is not precisely known.

Similarly, why extra-toed guinea pigs should produce stillborn offspring is not known. But the mystery is there, and thanks to the Placerville boy with the six-toed cat, Professor Danforth is now at work on it.

A big dipper of vanilla ice cream, a coating of apple jellied syrup, a scoop of apple sauce, and, over all, a slice of cinnamon-treated apple, a fluff of whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.
